

You are invited to the official opening of the Research Data Centre in the Leddy Library. The RDC is part of Leddy Library's Academic Data Centre, providing students and researchers with one-on-one support across a wide range of data needs.

The establishment of the Research Data Centre within Leddy Library ensures campus researchers have ready access to Statistics Canada's social sciences microdata without having to travel to the nearest centre in London. The RDC provides researchers with the equipment, tools, supplies and environment necessary for advanced research projects, giving Windsor faculty the same direct access to this important resource as faculty at Canada's largest research institutions.
